SEATTLE — 2021 FRESHMAN CLASS AND 2021 TRANSFER CLASS OBSERVATIONS

➤ Freshman

- Exceeded enrollment goals with a strong and diverse incoming class
- The freshman class includes a record number of underrepresented students

➤ Transfers

- Despite ever-lower enrollments at Washington community colleges (WACC), resulting in fewer WACC transfer applications, we continue to enroll over 1,200 WACC transfer students each year
- The transfer class includes a record number of underrepresented students
- Admission for transfer applicants from WACCs is still accessible with an overall admit rate of 69%

Bothell — 2021 FRESHMAN CLASS AND 2021 TRANSFER CLASS OBSERVATIONS

➤ Freshman

- Record number of applications – driven by WA residents and slight rebound in international
- Yield rates dropped across all residence types – Seattle application overlap increased from 75% to 80%
  - Declines in Latino admit rate and yield
  - Declines in “2 or more” applications, admit rate and yield

➤ Transfers

- Continued decline in applications – significant this year as CTC enrollment declines have started to roll through
- URM climbed to a record high – primarily due to declines in enrolled white students (% and absolute)

Overall Bothell had its second highest Autumn enrollment ever

Tacoma — 2021 FRESHMAN CLASS AND 2021 TRANSFER CLASS OBSERVATIONS

➤ Freshman

- 12.5% up in applications, resulting in a slight increase in Freshman enrollment
- First Gen (50.2%) and URM (36.0%) both represent a decrease in underserved populations, but still a significant percentage of our incoming Freshman students
- The disproportionate impact that COVID has had on our student population is showing up in our enrollment numbers

➤ Transfers

- Applications and admits down, resulting in 8.5% decrease in transfer enrollment – the downstream effect of the impact COVID has had on our feeder institutions
- First Gen (57.7%) and URM (31.4%) both represent an increase in underserved transfer student populations

- We continue to see growth in the School of Engineering & Technology and Biomedical Sciences
- Our overall enrollment is down 340 (6.3%)
- UWT attracts a significant number of BIPOC, lower-income, and first generation students—populations disproportionately impacted by the pandemic.
